Dear Sir,

a few days ago

I visited the original locality of Cimicifuga Racemosa var dissecta Gray. on the Banks of the Brandywine about 5 miles above Wilmington Del. It is still flourishing there and has increased somewhat since 1865. (the time it was discovered growing there). the variety has not been found elsewhere so far as I know.

Thinking you ~~would~~ like to have it in the Botanic Garden. I send two roots of the variety and one of the ordinary form from the above mentioned locality.

Yours Very Truly,

A. Commons.

the two roots of the variety are in ^{separate} a paper from the one which contains the ordinary form.
